

Women of Influence

1st Samuel 1:1-2-11

1 Samuel 1:2–11 (NIV)

Introduction:

Today's women have a tough row to hoe. Especially Christian women. There is so much pressure for them to reject faith, relationships and family. So, in this world of contradictions and social pressure women how may they not only find their way but thrive in doing so?

Hannah was not immune to life's troubles nor it's victories, and she is one of our greatest stories of a Godly woman and mother.

1. Knew the hurt of another woman in her marriage. V2
2. Knew the pain what it felt like to want but have no children. V2
3. Hannah had a Godly compassionate husband. V4-5
4. Hannah experienced depression. V6-8
5. She turned to God and encountered barriers but remained true. And made a promise to God. V9-14
6. She stayed on course and was unwavering in her commitment. V15-18, 20-26
7. God began his work and Samuel is born. V19-20
8. Hannah recognized blessings and its source. 2:1-10

Conclusion. A call for committed women.
